

Contents

Nicolás Medina and Miklós Kiss

The Role of Experimenting with the Human Voice in Film Music in the Representation of the Human/Alien Divide: the Case of Arrival (2016) 1

Morten Feldtfos Thomsen

Body, Telephone, Voice: Black Christmas (1974) and Monstrous Cinema . . . 20

Nick Redfern

The Soundtrack of the Sinister Trailer 36

Aneta Wójciszyn-Wasil

Silence as a Metaphor in the Polish Radio Reportages during the COVID-19 Pandemic 52

Fátima Chinita

A Tale of Sound and Fury Signifying Everything: Argentine Tango Dance Films as Complex Self-Reflexive Creation 68

Mircea Valeriu Deaca

Circular Causality of Emotions in Moving Pictures. 86

Amanda Rutherford and Sarah Baker

Game of Thrones as a Gothic Horror in Quality Television 111

Giorgos Dimitriadis

Considering Eye-tracking as a Validation Tool in Cinema Research. 129

László Strausz

Instrumentalization of the Border Zone. Environment and Ideology in the Educational Films Made between 1955 and 1989 by the Hungarian Ministry of Interior's Film Studio 151

Agata Waszkiewicz

Non-Normative Gender Performances of Fat Video Game Characters 165